

DPMC-IntelliBatt Expands U.S. Office Network to Eastern Region

DPMC & sister company IntelliBatt, headquartered in Northern California, are pleased to announce the formal establishment of our office presence in the U.S. East Coast region, based in New York City, on January 1, 2010. The New York office will focus on sales and service issues relevant to the data center and enterprise businesses based in the area.

Ryan Joy ryanjoy@intellibatt.com has been appointed as the New Business Development manager for the office.

We are excited about this new opportunity to expand our business and better serve our customers in this rapidly growing region.
